

Sinclair Broadcasting should, at the very least, follow the lead of CBS who recently postponed a segment of "Sixty Minutes" for fear that its message might sway voters right before the election. It is no surprise to me that the "right-wing noise machine" would try to sway the voters against the Democratic candidate. They are unscrupulous in their methods. I hope that the FCC can intervene and deter this media group from showing this film.